MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS EVERYONE

Membership means belonging, having a home-base, being part of a select group. For the Arkell Museum at Canajoharie and the Canajoharie Library, annual membership means all of that and more. In exchange for modest annual dues, members get the following benefits. It's a great way to support the museum and library.

Museum Exhibitions

Membership at all levels provides for free admission to the museum. In addition, members receive invitations to exhibition opening receptions and other membership events, as well as a discount in the Arkell shop. But most importantly, your membership contribution provides funding to support the costs of museum exhibitions.

Programs and Events

The Arkell Museum and Canajoharie Library sponsor a wide variety of educational and entertaining programs for all ages. Members receive newsletters, brochures and listings of upcoming events.

Members also receive reduced admission prices to selected events. And as with exhibitions, membership contributions help provide funding for these valuable programs.

Library Services

Members who are library users enjoy fine-free library borrowing for materials returned at the Canajoharie Library. Lost item charges still apply. Are you a library user? Support our library by becoming a member today.
